#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Asian equities declined over the period. Indonesia and Singapore lagged, while China and Taiwan outperformed. On a sector level, Real Estate and Financials declined, while Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most.

Key contributors to performance included Naver, which continued to execute well on its e-commerce and payments business. Investments made over the past few years have started to pay off; and we believe these segments could become sizeable profit centres on top of the company's core search and advertising businesses. Mediatek outperformed, with strong earnings and a solid forecast of 5G smartphone shipments over the course of the year. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and Housing Development Finance Corp fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the loans sector. Despite the shorter-term performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best financial companies in India and should continue to gain market share in the long run.

Significant purchases included Seek, an Australian-based online recruitment company that has built leading positions in Southeast Asia with the purchases of JobsDB and JobStreet, and in China with its 61% stake in Zhaopin. The Fund also purchased JD.com, a Chinese e-commerce retailer that owns the bulk of its own infrastructure (rather than just facilitating third-party sales). The company is still growing strongly at 15% per annum top-line with ongoing investment, and profitability should continue to improve with economies of scale.

The Fund disposed of Hong Kong & China Gas on concerns about regulatory risk and pricing, and sold Uni-President Enterprises on portfolio consolidation, as the Fund also owns the underlying Uni-President China subsidiary.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our Asia portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Indeed, there are opportunities to be found amongst the weakness, as we believe that prices for our company holdings have fallen far more than their longer-term business prospects have been stunted. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

Chinese equities increased over the period. On a sector level, Healthcare and Information Technology gained the most, while Financials and Materials declined.

Key contributors to performance included Tencent, which rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. Shanghai Liangxin Electrical increased after reporting strong earnings results. We believe the company's R&D-oriented strategy, brand position and performance-driven culture should help it gain market share from foreign competitors. On the negative side, Towngas China declined, as regulatory requirements to reduce gas prices dampened margins. China Taiping Insurance also detracted from performance, as the company had been de-rated for its over-aggressive expansion. Last year, a new chairman was appointed to stabilise the business and slow its growth momentum; however, its changing product strategy resulted in lower agent productivity and a weaker product mix.

Significant new purchases included JD.com, a Chinese e-commerce retailer that owns the bulk of its own infrastructure (rather than just facilitating third-party sales). The company is still growing strongly at 15% per annum top-line with ongoing investment, and profitability should continue to improve with economies of scale. The Fund also purchased Shandong Weigao, a leading medical devices manufacturer, known for its single-use consumable products (for example, syringes and blood transfusion bags). As the dominant player in a niche market, Weigao has successfully expanded into new categories; and has benefitted from product upgrading and import substitution from multi-national companies.

The Fund disposed of AAC Technologies and Luye Pharma on portfolio consolidation and to fund better ideas elsewhere.

As China was the first country to confront COVID-19 (and has made good progress in containing the outbreak), we believe that China's economic growth should recover gradually from the recent weakness. However, at the global level there is little visibility on what will be required for COVID-19 to be contained or how long it might take. As a result, most companies' earnings are likely to come under pressure.

Amid ongoing liquidity concerns in global markets, we continue to focus on financial safety, proven management execution and the long-term sustainability of portfolio companies. All of our companies have net gearing below 80%. Many have also continued to deliver steady operating cash flows based on recent earnings announcements. Short-term market turbulence has provided us with good opportunities to add to better-quality names in the portfolio.

We are long-term investors and seek to invest in high quality companies that contribute to and benefit from sustainable development.

The Fund has provided a positive return over 3, 5 and 10 years to 30 June 2020. It provided a negative return over the six months to 30 June 2020.

Major purchases over the period included Microsoft, a globally dominant provider of productivity software, and Edwards Lifesciences, a leading producer of heart valve products which is pushing the boundaries of research and development and trying to lower treatment costs in the healthcare system. We also bought Coloplast a family-backed healthcare business specialising in intimate health conditions, including ostomy and continence care.

We have much admiration for the family behind Henkel KGaA and the long-term mindset with which they run the company. However, we struggled with ongoing management changes after a few years of stumbling performance in critical areas of the franchise. This, alongside the possibility of cyclical weakness in what has been a very robust adhesives business, led us to finally exit our position. We sold Waters Corporation which has been through a period of management change resulting in a sound balance sheet being geared up. Without clarity that the direction of travel was improving in terms of quality of management or financials, we were uncomfortable holding on to this position. We sold Cerner for the same reasons as Waters Corporation.

Valuations for high-quality companies remain full but acceptable. We prefer to back strong management teams who are focusing on sustainable development rather than descend the quality spectrum for lower valuations.

Hong Kong equities declined over the period. On a sector level, Information Technology and Consumer Discretionary were the worst performers, while Healthcare and Communication Services outperformed with a positive return.

Key contributors to performance included Tencent, which rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. Techtronic reassured investors that there were minimal production disruptions due to COVID-19. A strong recovery is expected and Techtronic should outgrow peers over the long term, thanks to its strong technology and progressive product launches. On the negative side, Jardine Matheson has sadly proven to be an exceptional value trap in the last decade. That said and given where we are, we like the business-mix and in particular believe that Dairy Farm and Astra are probably very attractively valued. Towngas China declined, as regulatory requirements to reduce gas prices dampened margins.

Significant purchases included Alibaba Group, China's leading e-commerce business. We believe that the core franchise is strong, with steady growth potential over the next few years, while the cloud and fintech businesses could provide additional optionality. We have long debated on Alibaba's historical governance issues, with events like the Alipay deal in 2011 causing a stain on Alibaba's history. However, after continuing to follow and analyse the company, we believe such behaviour is not likely to be repeated. Since the IPO, information disclosure has improved meaningfully and ownership of businesses and assets under the VIE structure has been minimised. The Fund also purchased Hong Kong Exchanges & Clearing (HKEx), the monopoly trading exchange in Hong Kong. Despite its monopoly position, the culture seems entrepreneurial, rather than complacent. The company has a strong franchise and is highly cash generative and we believe there should be room for further growth as the market structure improves. The relisting of ADRs and greater stock connect volume could provide additional avenues for growth.

The Fund divested Tong Ren Tang on concerns about its execution capabilities and sold Luye Pharma on portfolio consolidation and to fund better ideas elsewhere.

In the short term, the outlook for the Hong Kong market depends on how soon governments and health authorities can stem the number of coronavirus cases and restart the global economy. With travel restrictions and lockdowns, most people are spending more time at home, resulting in a huge loss of end demand for goods and services.

Chinese stocks listed in Hong Kong have been sold down indiscriminately, as overseas investors have tried to raise cash wherever they could. As valuations have come down, we have added to companies that we believe can grow over the next 3-5 years. We continue to focus on quality companies with proven management, dominant franchises and conservative financials.

Indian equities declined over the period. Real Estate and Financials were the worst performers, while Healthcare and Communication Services outperformed with a positive return.

Key contributors to performance included Bharti Airtel, which benefitted from the first industry-wide price hikes in three years. Bharti is gaining new subscribers as they shift to a better managed network, while industry pricing is also expected to improve to ensure long-term investments can be funded. Godrej Consumer Products increased, as its Indonesia business performed well and its performance in India is expected to rebound sharply. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the banking sector. Despite the shorter-term performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best private banks in India and should continue to gain market share from the under-managed public banking sector in the long run.

Significant new purchases included Tata Consultancy Services (TCS), the largest Indian IT services company. TCS has pivoted its business in recent years and is expected to lead the industry's transition from traditional application maintenance and development services to digital transformation and cloud businesses. The Fund also purchased Dabur, a leading fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) company in India. The appointment of Mohit Malhotra as CEO in 2019 has brought a number of positive changes, with its strategy now firmly focused on key brands and Ayurveda. Plans to increase new product launches and expand distribution should lead to an improvement in its long-term growth.

The Fund disposed of Tech Mahindra to buy Tata Consultancy Services and sold Axis Bank in order to consolidate the portfolio's holdings among higher conviction banks. Overall exposure to the banking industry has been reduced, given the increased risks due to COVID-19 disruptions.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. Debt levels across our portfolio holdings are low, and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position. This should help cushion short-term cash flows. Our portfolio companies are also typically market leaders in their respective categories. The disruption is likely to lead to consolidation across sectors, as unorganised and smaller businesses will be severely affected. Therefore, we expect our companies to emerge with a stronger market position from this disruption.

As always, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term. Indeed, we believe there are attractive long-term opportunities to be found. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

Government bond yields fell globally for the 6 months ended June 2020. Benchmark 10-year yields fell in major regions, including the US (-126 bps), UK (-65 bps) and Europe (-17 bps). US high quality corporate spread widened by 57bps to 150 basis points.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic and lockdowns in countries across the globe, volatility in financial markets soared to the highest levels since the depths of the Global Financial Crisis more than a decade ago. Equities and corporate bonds performed poorly in the first quarter, but rebounded sharply in the second quarter.

With liquidity in the market drying up during March, central banks were forced to intervene with enormous capital injections. The Federal Reserve announced 'unlimited' support for the US bond market and the European Central Bank increased the size of its existing asset purchase program. These unconventional mechanisms involve central banks buying large quantities of bonds on the open market, thereby providing much-needed liquidity and supporting the normal functioning of markets.

Interest rates were lowered quite significantly. The Federal Funds rate in the US was lowered by 150 bps, to near zero. Cash rates were cut elsewhere too, either to zero or close to it. This means global central banks essentially have no more room to move on the official interest rates front – all further stimulus will have to come from higher government spending and/or expanded quantitative easing measures.

Economic data releases were completely overwhelmed by the virus-related statistics and announcements. The US economy contracted at an annual pace of -5.0% in the March quarter; the worst reading since during the Global Financial Crisis in 2008. Unemployment indicators were particularly concerning. Although the number of Americans losing their jobs has fallen from a peak in April, unemployment remains elevated. Initial jobless claims are currently running around 6x the 'normal' level seen in early 2020 and for several years prior to that. As a result, consumer sentiment remains well below pre-pandemic levels. These indicators do not augur well for a rebound in spending, reducing the likelihood of a 'V-shaped' recovery. A 'swoosh' – yes, like the famous sportswear brand – is increasingly being predicted, whereby the US economy will recover more slowly than initially hoped. The recent increase in new virus cases in the US may make the pace of any further recovery uneven, at best.

Nevertheless, central bank support programs had their desired effect – authorities provided adequate liquidity to ensure bond markets functioned normally again following March's dislocation. Global credit performed well in the second quarter, reversing at least half of the sell-off from March's low. The US Federal Reserve, European Central Bank and Bank of Japan all commenced asset purchase programs, pumping liquidity into the system to ensure fixed income markets could function normally. Importantly, corporate bonds are eligible for inclusion in these asset purchase programs, which helped support risk appetite. It appeared investors were comfortable buying corporate bonds, in the knowledge that valuations would likely be propped up by central banks on any sign of weakness. Overall, returns for the half year are quite pleasing given what the world has gone through and the uncertainties that still lie ahead.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Government bond yields fell globally for the 6 months ended June 2020. Benchmark 10-year yields fell in major regions, including the US (-126 bps), UK (-65 bps) and Europe (-17 bps). US high quality corporate spread widened by 57bps to 150 basis points.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic and lockdowns in countries across the globe, volatility in financial markets soared to the highest levels since the depths of the Global Financial Crisis more than a decade ago. Equities and corporate bonds performed poorly in the first quarter, but rebounded sharply in the second quarter.

With liquidity in the market drying up during March, central banks were forced to intervene with enormous capital injections. The Federal Reserve announced 'unlimited' support for the US bond market and the European Central Bank increased the size of its existing asset purchase program. These unconventional mechanisms involve central banks buying large quantities of bonds on the open market, thereby providing much-needed liquidity and supporting the normal functioning of markets.

Interest rates were lowered quite significantly. The Federal Funds rate in the US was lowered by 150 bps, to near zero. Cash rates were cut elsewhere too, either to zero or close to it. This means global central banks essentially have no more room to move on the official interest rates front – all further stimulus will have to come from higher government spending and/or expanded quantitative easing measures.

Economic data releases were completely overwhelmed by the virus-related statistics and announcements. The US economy contracted at an annual pace of -5.0% in the March quarter; the worst reading since during the Global Financial Crisis in 2008. Unemployment indicators were particularly concerning. Although the number of Americans losing their jobs has fallen from a peak in April, unemployment remains elevated. Initial jobless claims are currently running around 6x the 'normal' level seen in early 2020 and for several years prior to that. As a result, consumer sentiment remains well below pre-pandemic levels. These indicators do not augur well for a rebound in spending, reducing the likelihood of a 'V-shaped' recovery. A 'swoosh' – yes, like the famous sportswear brand – is increasingly being predicted, whereby the US economy will recover more slowly than initially hoped. The recent increase in new virus cases in the US may make the pace of any further recovery uneven, at best.

Nevertheless, central bank support programs had their desired effect – authorities provided adequate liquidity to ensure bond markets functioned normally again following March's dislocation. Global credit performed well in the second quarter, reversing at least half of the sell-off from March's low. The US Federal Reserve, European Central Bank and Bank of Japan all commenced asset purchase programs, pumping liquidity into the system to ensure fixed income markets could function normally. Importantly, corporate bonds are eligible for inclusion in these asset purchase programs, which helped support risk appetite. It appeared investors were comfortable buying corporate bonds, in the knowledge that valuations would likely be propped up by central banks on any sign of weakness. Overall, returns for the half year are quite pleasing given what the world has gone through and the uncertainties that still lie ahead.

Government bond yields fell globally for the 6 months ended June 2020. Benchmark 10-year yields fell in major regions, including the US (-126 bps), UK (-65 bps) and Europe (-17 bps). US high quality corporate spread widened by 57bps to 150 basis points.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic and lockdowns in countries across the globe, volatility in financial markets soared to the highest levels since the depths of the Global Financial Crisis more than a decade ago. Equities and corporate bonds performed poorly in the first quarter, but rebounded sharply in the second quarter.

With liquidity in the market drying up during March, central banks were forced to intervene with enormous capital injections. The Federal Reserve announced 'unlimited' support for the US bond market and the European Central Bank increased the size of its existing asset purchase program. These unconventional mechanisms involve central banks buying large quantities of bonds on the open market, thereby providing much-needed liquidity and supporting the normal functioning of markets.

Interest rates were lowered quite significantly. The Federal Funds rate in the US was lowered by 150 bps, to near zero. Cash rates were cut elsewhere too, either to zero or close to it. This means global central banks essentially have no more room to move on the official interest rates front – all further stimulus will have to come from higher government spending and/or expanded quantitative easing measures.

Economic data releases were completely overwhelmed by the virus-related statistics and announcements. The US economy contracted at an annual pace of -5.0% in the March quarter; the worst reading since during the Global Financial Crisis in 2008. Unemployment indicators were particularly concerning. Although the number of Americans losing their jobs has fallen from a peak in April, unemployment remains elevated. Initial jobless claims are currently running around 6x the 'normal' level seen in early 2020 and for several years prior to that. As a result, consumer sentiment remains well below pre-pandemic levels. These indicators do not augur well for a rebound in spending, reducing the likelihood of a 'V-shaped' recovery. A 'swoosh' – yes, like the famous sportswear brand – is increasingly being predicted, whereby the US economy will recover more slowly than initially hoped. The recent increase in new virus cases in the US may make the pace of any further recovery uneven, at best.

Nevertheless, central bank support programs had their desired effect – authorities provided adequate liquidity to ensure bond markets functioned normally again following March's dislocation. Global credit performed well in the second quarter, reversing at least half of the sell-off from March's low. The US Federal Reserve, European Central Bank and Bank of Japan all commenced asset purchase programs, pumping liquidity into the system to ensure fixed income markets could function normally. Importantly, corporate bonds are eligible for inclusion in these asset purchase programs, which helped support risk appetite. It appeared investors were comfortable buying corporate bonds, in the knowledge that valuations would likely be propped up by central banks on any sign of weakness. Overall, returns for the half year are quite pleasing given what the world has gone through and the uncertainties that still lie ahead.

Greater China equities were marginally positive over the period. Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most, while Real Estate and utilities declined.

Key contributors to performance included Tencent, which rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. Techtronic reassured investors that there were minimal production disruptions due to COVID-19. A strong recovery is expected and Techtronic should outgrow peers over the long term, thanks to its strong technology and progressive product launches. On the negative side, AIA Group declined amid political tensions between Hong Kong and China, and the resulting uncertainty around premiums growth. China Taiping Insurance also detracted from performance, as the company had been de-rated for its over-aggressive expansion. Last year, a new chairman was appointed to stabilise the business and slow its growth momentum; however, its changing product strategy resulted in lower agent productivity and a weaker product mix.

Significant new purchases included JD.com, a Chinese e-commerce retailer that owns the bulk of its own infrastructure (rather than just facilitating third-party sales). The company is still growing strongly at 15% per annum top-line with ongoing investment, and profitability should continue to improve with economies of scale. The Fund also purchased Realtek Semiconductor, a dedicated networking chip designer. The company should benefit from secular tailwinds driven by increased connectivity and the 'Internet of Things'.

The Fund disposed of AAC Technologies and Luye Pharma on portfolio consolidation and to fund better ideas elsewhere.

As China was the first country to confront COVID-19 (and has made good progress in containing the outbreak), we believe that China's economic growth should recover gradually from the recent weakness. However, at the global level there is little visibility on what will be required for COVID-19 to be contained or how long it might take. As a result, most companies' earnings are likely to come under pressure.

Amid ongoing liquidity concerns in global markets, we continue to focus on financial safety, proven management execution and the long-term sustainability of portfolio companies. All of our companies have net gearing below 80%. Many have also continued to deliver steady operating cash flows based on recent earnings announcements. Short-term market turbulence has provided us with good opportunities to add to better-quality names in the portfolio.

Singaporean and Malaysian equities declined over the period. On a sector level, Consumer Discretionary and Industrials were the worst performers, while Information Technology declined the least and Healthcare was the only positive sector.

Key contributors to performance included Top Glove, which saw a recent spike in global demand due to the coronavirus, and Sheng Siong, which reported better than expected earnings results, as consumers stocked up on food and essentials and cooked at home more due to COVID-19 lockdowns. On the negative side, United Overseas Bank, Oversea-Chinese Banking Corporation and DBS Bank fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the banking sector.

Significant new purchases included iFast, an online distribution platform that offers access to a wide range of investment products. Established more than 20 years ago, the company has expanded geographically, added licences, invested in systems and grown assets under advice to around S$10bn. A strong focus on ESG (particularly in terms of governance and stakeholder engagement) and net cash on the balance sheet provided additional comfort. The Fund also purchased Thai Beverage Co, one of the leading spirits, beer and dairy companies in Southeast Asia. The group has around 90% share of the Thai liquor market and its Chang beer has been gaining share and improving profitability. Meanwhile, its majority stake in Saigon Beer Alcohol Beverage Company (SABECO) provides optionality on the Vietnamese beer market.

The Fund divested LPI Capital on concerns about lower profitability due to deregulation, and sold Unicharm, which had held up well, to switch into other quality stocks that had fallen more sharply.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Indeed, there are opportunities to be found amongst the weakness, as we believe that prices for our company holdings have fallen far more than their longer-term business prospects have been stunted. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

Asian equities declined over the period. Indonesia and Singapore lagged, while China and Taiwan outperformed. On a sector level, Real Estate and Financials declined, while Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most.

Key contributors to performance included Naver, which continued to execute well on its e-commerce and payments business. Investments made over the past few years have started to pay off; and we believe these segments could become sizeable profit centres on top of the company's core search and advertising businesses. Mediatek outperformed, with strong earnings and a solid forecast of 5G smartphone shipments over the course of the year. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and Housing Development Finance Corp fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the loans sector. Despite the shorter-term performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best financial companies in India and should continue to gain market share in the long run.

Significant purchases included Seek, an Australian-based online recruitment company that has built leading positions in Southeast Asia with the purchases of JobsDB and JobStreet, and in China with its 61% stake in Zhaopin. The Fund also purchased Shiseido, one of the oldest and largest Japanese cosmetics brands in the world. Although the company had been mismanaged in the past, there has been a significant turnaround with the appointment of an outsider CEO (in 2014) and changes to the management team. Corporate governance and financial alignment has improved, and its brand image has been reinvigorated.

The Fund disposed of Hong Kong & China Gas on concerns about regulatory risk and pricing, and sold Uni-President Enterprises on portfolio consolidation, as the Fund also owns the underlying Uni-President China subsidiary.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our Asia portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Investments made over the past few years have started to pay off; and we believe these segments could become sizeable profit centres on top of the company's core search and advertising businesses. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and Housing Development Finance Corp fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the loans sector. Despite the shorter-term performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best financial companies in India and should continue to gain market share in the long run.

Significant purchases included Shiseido, one of the oldest and largest Japanese cosmetics brands in the world. Although the company had been mismanaged in the past, there has been a significant turnaround with the appointment of an outsider CEO (in 2014) and changes to the management team. Corporate governance and financial alignment has improved, and its brand image has been reinvigorated. The Fund also purchased ICICI Bank, which has one of the best deposit franchises in India, as well as strong wealth management and insurance segments.

The Fund disposed of AAC Technologies and Cognizant on portfolio consolidation and to fund better ideas elsewhere.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our Asia portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Indeed, there are opportunities to be found amongst the weakness, as we believe that prices for our company holdings have fallen far more than their longer-term business prospects have been stunted. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units. No Benchmarks since 2019.

The first half of 2020 was a volatile period for risk assets globally, including Asian credit. Credit spreads were trading closer to the recent tights as we started the year, reflecting buoyant sentiment and generally positive market indicators. Government bond yields were relatively low – supporting the appeal of higher yielding alternatives like corporate bonds – and company earnings appeared to be holding up quite well. News that the US and China had formally signed the 'phase one' trade deal that had been agreed in December also supported sentiment towards risk assets globally.

In March, however, corporate bond prices came under significant pressure as it became evident that the coronavirus pandemic would result in widespread economic disruptions. There was a meaningful recovery in April, May and June as investors looked through the inevitable period of economic weakness and lower corporate profitability. Returns were further boosted by downward movements in US government bond yields. Benchmark 10-year Treasury yields declined from more than 1.90% at the beginning of the year to less than 0.70% by the end of June, primarily reflecting changes in official cash rates. The Federal Funds rate was slashed to just 0.25% in March to help support the US economy through its Covid-related slump.

Like elsewhere, economic data releases in Asia tended to be overwhelmed by the latest virus-related statistics and announcements. Nonetheless, it was encouraging to see a rebound in activity levels towards the end of the period. The most recent PMI surveys in China were ahead of expectations, for example, suggesting there could be some emerging momentum in the world's second largest economy. China is ahead of other countries, having implemented and subsequently removed lockdowns earlier than elsewhere. Accordingly, global investors are looking towards China as a roadmap to see how other economies might respond as restrictions are gradually lifted.

With implicit support from central banks – the US Federal Reserve, in particular – technical factors remain reasonably supportive for credit markets. With spreads around 260 bps, JACI Investment Grade valuations arguably still appear reasonably attractive. However, the all-in yield on many Asian Investment Grade corporate bonds is close to historical lows and well below the hurdle rate for many investors. Indeed, following substantial spread tightening in the past three months, some caution appears warranted; especially since a second wave of COVID-19 cases cannot be ruled out.

Recent trends and broker forecasts suggest default rates and ratings downgrades could pick up. With sentiment remaining fragile, credit spreads could continue to see some volatility in the months ahead. Accordingly, portfolio positioning has become more cautious and we are looking to preserve the gains that have already been made. The current defensive positioning in the portfolio should help preserve capital if sentiment turns again and markets see further bouts of volatility.

The first half of 2020 was a volatile period for risk assets globally, including Asian credit. Credit spreads were trading closer to the recent tights as we started the year, reflecting buoyant sentiment and generally positive market indicators. Government bond yields were relatively low – supporting the appeal of higher yielding alternatives like corporate bonds – and company earnings appeared to be holding up quite well. News that the US and China had formally signed the 'phase one' trade deal that had been agreed in December also supported sentiment towards risk assets globally.

In March, however, corporate bond prices came under significant pressure as it became evident that the coronavirus pandemic would result in widespread economic disruptions. There was a meaningful recovery in April, May and June as investors looked through the inevitable period of economic weakness and lower corporate profitability. Returns were further boosted by downward movements in US government bond yields. Benchmark 10-year Treasury yields declined from more than 1.90% at the beginning of the year to less than 0.70% by the end of June, primarily reflecting changes in official cash rates. The Federal Funds rate was slashed to just 0.25% in March to help support the US economy through its Covid-related slump.

Like elsewhere, economic data releases in Asia tended to be overwhelmed by the latest virus-related statistics and announcements. Nonetheless, it was encouraging to see a rebound in activity levels towards the end of the period. The most recent PMI surveys in China were ahead of expectations, for example, suggesting there could be some emerging momentum in the world's second largest economy. China is ahead of other countries, having implemented and subsequently removed lockdowns earlier than elsewhere. Accordingly, global investors are looking towards China as a roadmap to see how other economies might respond as restrictions are gradually lifted.

With implicit support from central banks – the US Federal Reserve, in particular – technical factors remain reasonably supportive for credit markets. With spreads around 260 bps, JACI Investment Grade valuations arguably still appear reasonably attractive. However, the all-in yield on many Asian Investment Grade corporate bonds is close to historical lows and well below the hurdle rate for many investors. Indeed, following substantial spread tightening in the past three months, some caution appears warranted; especially since a second wave of COVID-19 cases cannot be ruled out.

Recent trends and broker forecasts suggest default rates and ratings downgrades could pick up. With sentiment remaining fragile, credit spreads could continue to see some volatility in the months ahead. Accordingly, portfolio positioning has become more cautious and we are looking to preserve the gains that have already been made. The Fund's overweight positions in Indonesian quasi and China asset management companies resulted in some underperformance relative to the benchmark index during the period, as spreads did not quite recover back to levels from before March's sell-off. The current defensive positioning in the portfolio should help preserve capital if sentiment turns again and markets see further bouts of volatility.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

We aim to invest in quality companies trading at reasonable valuations over the long-term.

The Fund has provided a positive return over 10 years to 30 June 2020. It has provided a negative return over 3 and 5 years, and six months to 30 June 2020.

Over the six-month period significant purchases included FirstRand Limited, a South African financial services company which owns what we believe is one of the best banks in the country, First National Bank. The bank is a high-returning franchise, paying an attractive dividend yield. We also bought Infosys, a quality IT outsourcer which we have owned before for clients, and Mondi, a high-quality paper and packaging company.

We sold Ultrapar in favour of higher quality franchises that had fallen to acceptable valuations and South Korean cosmetics company Amorepacific Group where the team had concerns over the strength of franchise and quality of governance. We also sold Malaysia's Public Bank, given our preference for other reasonably valued banks elsewhere in emerging markets.

The level of uncertainty facing the global economy remains high, yet with a couple of exceptions, particularly banks, valuations are expensive. As always, we remain focused on finding quality companies with careful stewards which are trading at reasonable valuations.

The FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Index (USD) fell -21.3% in 1H20. Global REITs were heavily sold off during the half as investors grappled with how the drastic government and central bank responses to the COVID-19 pandemic would augur for global economic growth, and property landlords more specifically.

The largest contributors to performance were overweight holdings in US cold-storage facility owner, Americold Realty, and US data centre REIT, QTS Realty Trust. During the half, Americold outperformed as investors focussed on its attractive valuation and health healthy internal and external growth profiles. QTS Realty has outperformed amid COVID-19, partly because digital tenants are less impacted by the economic implications of the pandemic.

The largest detractors from the Fund's performance were average overweight positions in Australian diversified landlord, Mirvac Group, and US entertainment and leisure REIT, Vici Properties. During the half, Mirvac announced that its asset valuations fell -2.8% in the six months to 30 June 2020. Vici Properties sold off heavily as the US economy went into lockdown, with many non-essential venues closing to contain the spread of COVID-19.

The Fund established a position in Digital Realty Trust, a global data centre REIT, given its attractive relative valuation and the sector's secular growth trends. Moreover, an active position was initiated in Welltower, a US healthcare REIT, after the stock was materially oversold amid the COVID-19 uncertainty, which presented a compelling risk-adjusted opportunity.

The Fund exited from its position in QTS Realty, a US data centre REIT, given the stock's material outperformance of its data centre peers, which provided a compelling opportunity to exit from the name. In addition, the Fund exited from its position in UK student housing landlord, Unite Group, given its stretched valuation, following significant outperformance, as well as due to emerging COVID-19 headline risks in the education sector.

In the US, the Fund's exposures are concentrated in sectors that should hold up relatively well, including single-family rentals and apartments, logistical warehouses, data centres and selective office and healthcare exposures.

In Europe, the Fund has minimal exposure to the heavily impacted retail and hospitality sectors, and is primarily positioned in the relatively insulated industrial residential sectors, as well as offices in the main European capitals.

Within Asia, the strategy is to have a balanced portfolio with exposure to both quality defensive names and stocks with strong growth potential in the region.

The FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Asia Index (USD) fell -20.7 % in 1H20. Asian property securities were heavily sold off during the half as investors grappled with how the drastic government and central bank responses to the COVID-19 pandemic would augur for economic growth, while social unrest in the region also dampened sentiment.

The Fund's overweight exposure to Japanese logistics focussed landlords contributed significantly to performance during the half. GLP J-REIT, Sosila Logistics REIT and LaSalle Logiport REIT all outperformed as investors favoured the sector given the resilience it has demonstrated amid the COVID-19 affected period, as well as due to longer term structural tailwinds related to rising e-commerce related demand and expectations for further investment into supply chains by businesses.

The biggest detractor from performance was the Fund's overweight to Japanese office landlord, Invesco Office J-REIT. The stock underperformed partly due to concerns that potential shifts towards remote working could weaken office market fundamentals over the medium to longer term. Moreover, an overweight position in Mirvac Group also detracted from performance. The A-REIT recently announced a second-half distribution that was lower than market expectations, while its asset valuations fell -2.8% in the six months to 30 June 2020.

The Fund up-weighted its exposure to diversified A-REIT, GPT Group, given its attractive valuation, high quality diversified asset portfolio and strong management team. In addition, a position was established in Japanese residential REIT, Advance Residence Investment Corporation due to the sector's defensiveness amid COVID. Home stability has become increasingly important for tenants, both from a health and safety as well as from a work perspective. The Fund reduced its exposure to Australian office name, Dexus, given the secular headwinds related to remote working that are expected to negatively impact CBD office building fundamentals over the medium to longer term. The Fund also exited from its position in National Storage REIT, which faces a challenged operating environment and is no longer a likely takeover target in the near-term.

In Japan, the Fund holds overweight exposures to logistical warehouses, while maintaining our selective office and residential positions and having minimal exposure to retail and hotels. The Fund is underweight to Hong Kong overall, given the elevated uncertainty in the region, and retains selective exposures to property names with low leverage, strong balance sheets and robust cash flow growth. In Australia, the Fund is primarily exposed to the relatively defensive office and industrial sub-sectors, while maintaining look-through exposures to the residential sector. The Fund has limited exposure to Singaporean REITs and developers, given unappealing valuations and the material near-term downside risks to earnings.

Chinese equities increased over the period. On a sector level, Healthcare and Information Technology gained the most, while Financials and Materials declined.

Key contributors to performance included Meituan Dianping, which benefitted from changing consumer behaviour and lifestyles, particularly against the recent backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic. Tencent rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. On the negative side, China Telecom* has suffered from intense industry competition since 2018. More recently, concerns about slowing revenue and increased capex for the forthcoming 5G rollout put pressure on the share price. Xinjiang Goldwind* weakened after reporting lower than expected earnings and lower margins on its wind turbines business.

*No longer held in the portfolio.

The portfolio was reconstructed over the second quarter, following a change in the lead manager from Quanqiang Xian to Helen Chen.

Some of the key changes include new positions in "new economy" service sectors that should benefit from changing consumer behaviour and lifestyles, particularly against the backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic. Examples include JD.com, a Chinese e-commerce retailer that owns the bulk of its own infrastructure (rather than just facilitating third-party sales). The company is still growing strongly at 15% per annum top-line with ongoing investment, and profitability should continue to improve with economies of scale. The Fund also purchased Meituan Dianping, a leading life services e-commerce platform in China. It is a "super app", which connects more than 400 million transacting users with 5.9 million merchants. The company is well-positioned to benefit from increased penetration of online services. The Fund also initiated positions in financials and property companies with structural growth opportunities, such as China Resources Land, a leading property developer and premium mall operator in China that should benefit from consumption/lifestyle upgrading.

Companies in traditional industries with limited growth and unattractive return on equity have been divested, such as China Telecom and China Merchants Port.

As China was the first country to confront COVID-19 (and has made good progress in containing the outbreak), we believe that China's economic growth should recover gradually from the recent weakness. However, at the global level there is little visibility on what will be required for COVID-19 to be contained or how long it might take. As a result, most companies' earnings are likely to come under pressure.

Amid ongoing liquidity concerns in global markets, we continue to focus on financial safety, proven management execution and the long-term sustainability of portfolio companies. All of our companies have net gearing below 80%. Many have also continued to deliver steady operating cash flows based on recent earnings announcements. Short-term market turbulence has provided us with good opportunities to add to better-quality names in the portfolio.

Global Listed Infrastructure fell sharply, along with global equities, as the spread of coronavirus led authorities to shut down activity during the 2020 March quarter. The asset class then made up ground as the gradual easing of lockdown measures buoyed investor sentiment.

The First State Global Listed Infrastructure Fund is actively managed, and integrates the assessment of material Environmental, Social and Governance factors into its investment process. The three largest positive contributors to Fund returns over this period were Crown Castle, American Tower and SBA Communications. The pandemic has highlighted the need for improved wireless / remote / video conferencing capabilities, which should be supportive of tower growth.

The largest detractor from Fund performance was Centerpoint Energy, which underperformed as balance sheet concerns weighed on the stock. Williams was affected by turbulent energy markets during the March quarter. ASUR fell as global travel restrictions translated to sharp declines in airport volumes.

A position was initiated in Xcel Energy which serves 3.5 million electric and 2 million gas customers across eight US states. Steady, low risk earnings growth is being driven by the replacement of coal-fired generation assets with renewables. The Fund bought shares in Flughafen Zurich, which owns and operates Switzerland's main airport through a concession that runs until 2051. An unfavourable regulatory review and a slowing growth outlook created mispricing in this high quality, long life infrastructure asset. Aurizon was also added to the portfolio, after the stock traded down to compelling valuation levels despite robust fundamentals.

Central Japan Railway was divested on the view that it was more vulnerable to the sluggish pace of longer haul shinkansen volume recovery than peers East JR and West JR. Enbridge Inc and TC Energy were also sold after outperformance moved them to lower positions within the Value/Quality rankings of our investment process.

The Fund invests in a range of global listed infrastructure assets including toll roads, airports, railroads, utilities, pipelines and mobile towers. These sectors share common characteristics, like barriers to entry and pricing power that can provide investors with inflation-protected income and strong capital growth over the medium term.

The macroeconomic outlook remains hard to predict and will depend largely on coronavirus developments. We remain alert to the risk of second waves, prolonged recessions and slow recoveries. Against this challenging backdrop, the long term structural earnings growth drivers offered by many infrastructure assets would become increasingly valuable.

Asian equities declined over the period. Indonesia and Singapore lagged, while China and Taiwan outperformed. On a sector level, Real Estate and Financials declined, while Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most.

Key contributors to performance included Tencent, which rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. Bharti Airtel benefitted from the first industry-wide price hikes in three years, which should help lift revenue and profits. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and ICICI Bank fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the loans sector. Despite the shorterterm performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best financial companies in India and should continue to gain market share in the long run.

Significant purchases included Colgate-Palmolive, after its competitive positioning and revenue growth improved. New CEO, Ram Raghavan, has brought in a renewed focus on growth, which bodes well for Colgate's portfolio of toothpastes. The Fund also purchased Sunny Optical, a leading producer of optical components such as camera modules and lenses, with around 30% market share. Camera upgrading in smartphones (higher resolution, dual-cam to tri- and quad-cam, 3D sensing, and better lens quality) seems to be a structural growth trend; while the broad adoption of 5G in China could provide a cyclical tailwind as smartphone sales return to growth.

The Fund disposed of CK Hutchinson on portfolio consolidation and sold AAC Technology to switch into Sunny Optical.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our Asia portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Indeed, there are opportunities to be found amongst the weakness, as we believe that prices for our company holdings have fallen far more than their longer-term business prospects have been stunted. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

Credit spreads fluctuated substantially in the first six months of 2020, resulting in a fair degree of volatility in performance. The Fund declined in value slightly in the period as a whole, reflecting the impact of widening spreads.

After trending lower in the second half of 2019, credit spreads soared in February and March as it became clear that the coronavirus pandemic would result in widespread economic disruptions. With many industries effectively shut down in key regions, the outlook for corporate profitability deteriorated and investors began suggesting that default rates would increase. Spread widening resulted in disappointing returns from the portfolio during the first quarter of the year.

After peaking in late March, spreads retraced much of their earlier movement in April, May and June as sentiment rebounded strongly. Investors appeared to look through the inevitable period of economic weakness and lower corporate profitability. The actions of governments and central banks also supported sentiment. Authorities appear determined to do whatever is required to combat the impacts of virus-related disruptions and avert the most catastrophic of economic outcomes.

The inclusion of corporate bonds as part of massive asset purchase programs by the US Federal Reserve, the European Central Bank and the Bank of Japan were also particularly supportive of sentiment towards the asset class. Ultimately, investors appeared comfortable buying corporate bonds in the knowledge that valuations would likely be propped up by central banks on any sign of weakness. There is further to go, but it was encouraging that corporate bonds were able to claw back much of their lost ground from the sell-off in late February and March.

Companies looked to take advantage of improving risk appetite and strong inflows into the asset class by offering a substantial amount of new bonds. In some cases, this was to bolster their balance sheets to help cushion the impact of a more prolonged period of lower profitability. Our team of dedicated, in-house credit analysts assessed new issues on their individual merits and the Fund participated in a number of them. In other activity, positions in Hong Kong property companies were sold in May following unsettling geopolitical developments. It emerged that China planned to impose new national security laws in Hong Kong; an indication that Beijing is seeking to increase its control over Hong Kong.

By the end of the period, the Fund held investments in around 80 companies spread across 16 countries. This level of diversification in the portfolio helps mitigate company-specific as well as regional risk.

Asian equities declined over the period. Indonesia and Singapore lagged, while China and Taiwan outperformed. On a sector level, Real Estate and Financials declined, while Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most.

Key contributors to performance included Tencent, which rose on continued growth in its social advertising and financial technology segments. The company has also benefitted from increased engagement on social media apps and gaming amid COVID-19 lockdowns. Naver continued to execute well on its e-commerce and payments business. Investments made over the past few years have started to pay off; and we believe these segments could become sizeable profit centres on top of the company's core search and advertising businesses. On the negative side, HDFC Bank and Housing Development Finance Corp fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the loans sector. Despite the shorter-term performance, we continue to believe that these are among the best financial companies in India and should continue to gain market share in the long run.

Significant purchases included ICICI Bank, which has one of the best deposit franchises in India, as well as strong wealth management and insurance segments.

The Fund disposed of AAC Technologies and Cognizant on portfolio consolidation and to fund better ideas elsewhere.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our Asia portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. In general, Asian corporate balance sheets are strong; and most of our portfolio companies are in a net cash position, which should help to cushion shorter-term cash flows. We cannot predict when normalisation might happen; instead, we continue to focus on our bottom-up investment approach, seeking high quality companies to invest in for the long term.

Indeed, there are opportunities to be found amongst the weakness, as we believe that prices for our company holdings have fallen far more than their longer-term business prospects have been stunted. As quality growth stocks have become cheaper, we have taken the opportunity to consolidate our portfolios into higher-conviction names and buy companies on our watch-list that have become more reasonably priced.

Japanese equities declined over the period. On a sector level, Real Estate and Financials declined the most, while Healthcare and Communication Services were the only sectors to record a positive performance.

Significant contributors to performance included MonotaRO, as it continued to gain market share in a fragmented MRO industry. We believe the pandemic will likely accelerate the shift towards online purchases, particularly when factoring in economies of scale and the benefit of lower procurement costs. OBIC also increased; and with more people working from home, we expect cloud-based services to become an increasingly larger business. On the negative side, SMS, which hires nurses and careworkers, and Recruit Holdings, a recruitment company that also runs online media portals in Japan (the equivalent of Yelp and Expedia) both declined as most job interviews have been delayed or cancelled due to COVID-19. However, we believe this is only a temporary issue; and as industry consolidation accelerates due to COVID-19, we believe they should increase their leadership over peers.

Significant purchases included Hoya, a leading manufacturer of lenses and related optical products. A key factor in the purchase of the shares was its corporate philosophy of being a "big fish in a small pond" and its strong focus on corporate governance and shareholder return. The Fund also purchased Sony Corp, a globally leading player in video game consoles, music publishing and image sensors. The valuation seemed attractive due to its multiple business lines (conglomerate discount) and, although its historical performance has been volatile, returns have improved markedly in recent years.

The Fund divested Relo Holdings and Benext Group to make room for higher conviction ideas.

Given the uncertainties around the global outlook, the portfolio is positioned predominantly towards companies with exposure to domestic demand. The companies we like to own are managed by strong management teams and can generate sustainable earnings growth and return on equity without relying on leverage or the macro environment. We also own regional consumer companies, global industrials and medical equipment/services companies with dominant franchises, strong balance sheets and steady cash flow. These businesses should remain relatively defensive in the event of a recession.

Amid the market volatility, we see the current panic selling as an excellent opportunity for long-term investors (like us) to accumulate leading franchises at much cheaper prices. We took the opportunity to consolidate the portfolio and initiate new positions in high conviction companies on our watch list that had become more reasonably valued.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

Listed Infrastructure fell sharply, along with global equities, as the spread of coronavirus led authorities to shut down activity during the 2020 March quarter. The asset class then made up ground as investor sentiment was buoyed by the gradual easing of lockdown measures.

The two largest positive contributors to Fund returns over this period were Crown Castle and American Tower. The pandemic has highlighted the need for improved wireless / remote / video conferencing capabilities, which should be supportive of tower growth. Iberdrola gained as investors anticipated new investment opportunities associated with the European Green Deal, a set of policy initiatives aiming to make Europe climate neutral by 2050.

The largest detractor from Fund performance was Centerpoint Energy, which underperformed as balance sheet concerns weighed on the stock. PINFRA lagged as traffic volumes fell on its road networks. Williams was affected by turbulent energy markets during the March quarter.

A position was initiated in Public Service Enterprise Group, which is well positioned to benefit from the Net Zero target of its home state of New Jersey. The company is investing significantly in solar, and in offshore wind projects alongside Denmark's Orsted. The Fund added PNM Resources. The company's growth rate is underpinned by the transition from coal-fired power stations to renewables in New Mexico; and economic development in Texas. The Fund also bought shares in China Gas Holdings. China's national clean energy drive is supporting a strong growth trajectory for the country's gas distribution market.

Central Japan Railway was divested on the view that it was more vulnerable to the sluggish pace of longer haul shinkansen volume recovery than peers East JR and West JR. Hydro One was sold after an improved relationship with Ontario's provincial government buoyed its share price. Ferrovial was also sold after strong share price gains since its mid March low point moved the stock to a lower position within our Value/Quality ranking process.

Despite buoyant markets during the June quarter, we remain alert to the risk of second waves, prolonged recessions and slow recoveries. Under these scenarios, additional economic stimulus measures may be required to boost anaemic economic growth rates and reduce high unemployment levels.

Support for private investment in infrastructure could provide a useful - and broadly popular – way of doing this. Initiatives such as the EU's Green Deal and the UK's 2050 Net Zero target support increased investment in renewable energy generation, with offshore wind playing a central role. While clean energy already enjoys bipartisan support in the US, the ambitious program of energy research and innovation recently announced by Democrat Presidential candidate Joe Biden could lead to further investment in these areas.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units

Emerging Market equities declined over the period. On a country level, Brazil and Pakistan were among the worst performers, while Taiwan declined but outperformed the broader index and China provided a positive return. On a sector level, Financials and Industrials underperformed, while Healthcare and Communication Services gained the most.

Key contributors to performance included MercadoLibre, which outperformed on solid earnings results, with particularly strong growth in its payments business. Tsingtao Brewery also added to performance, as the management presented a more coherent strategy to boost sales growth. As a result, previously loss-making regions improved and premium beer volumes grew. On the negative side, Santander Mexico and Axis Bank both fell on concerns over the coronavirus-related economic slowdown and its impact on the banking sector. Though Santander had already weakened on concerns about the devaluation of the peso, the long-term fundamentals remain solid – the bank generates return on equity of around 15% and is well capitalised with a tier-1 ratio of 14%. Meanwhile, Axis Bank is among the best private banks in India and should continue to gain market share from the undermanaged public banking sector in the long run.

Significant new purchases included Tencent, a major beneficiary of the rise in everyday technology and 'smart' devices. Tencent has a strong management team; and has delivered high rates of growth on top of an already substantial base. The business has proven to be highly adaptable and should be well-positioned for future market cycles. We also purchased JD.com, a Chinese e-commerce retailer that owns the bulk of its own infrastructure (rather than just facilitating third-party sales). The company is still growing strongly at 15% per annum top-line with ongoing investment, and profitability should continue to improve with economies of scale.

The Fund divested Hengan International to add to JD.com and sold Ambuja Cement to fund the purchase of ICICI Lombard, a high quality general insurance company in India with a proven management team and a leading market share among private players.

Whilst the economic outlook is extremely uncertain until such time that either a vaccine or treatment for COVID-19 is found, we are comfortable with our portfolio holdings and the quality of the underlying businesses. These companies are market leaders in attractive categories with significant competitive advantages, which allow them to generate high returns on invested capital and steady cash flows. Further, we believe there is plenty of scope for these businesses to grow over the next 3-5 years. The companies we own are led by high quality stewards; and the majority have a net cash position and are thus ideally positioned to weather the crisis. If the past is any indicator, we expect them to emerge stronger than ever as weaker competitors struggle.

While there is clearly going to be short-term disruptions for many of our companies, we see the current market volatility as an excellent opportunity for long-term investors (like us) to accumulate leading franchises at much cheaper prices.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

We aim to invest in quality companies trading at reasonable valuations which should contribute to and benefit from sustainable development over the long-term.

The Fund has provided a positive return over 3 and 5 years to 30 June 2020. It provided a negative return over the six months to 30 June 2020¹.

Major purchases over the period included Zebra Technologies, which manufactures thermal barcode printers, scanners, and radio-frequency identification (RFID) and networked smart devices. Its technologies improve efficiency, accuracy and transparency across value chains, from making sure blood collections are accurately labelled to providing real time locations of assets and inventory. We bought Halma, a conglomerate of diversified companies, manufacturing lifesaving products in process safety, healthcare, environmental testing and infrastructure safety. We also bought Arista Networks, a leading provider of networking solutions which is well positioned to benefit from increased connectivity and 5G.

We have much admiration for the family behind Henkel KGaA and the long-term mindset with which they run the company. However, we struggled with ongoing management changes after a few years of stumbling performance in critical areas of the franchise. This, alongside the possibility of cyclical weakness in what has been a very robust adhesives business, led us to finally exit our position. We sold Deutsche Telekom due to concerns about the balance sheet and Elisa Oyj because of its excessive valuation.

Valuations for high-quality companies remain stretched. We prefer to back strong management teams who are focusing on sustainable development rather than descend the quality spectrum for notionally lower valuations.

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

We aim to invest in quality companies trading at reasonable valuations which should contribute to and benefit from the sustainable development of emerging markets over the long-term.

The Fund has provided a positive return over 3 and 5 years to 30 June 2020. It provided a negative return over the six months to 30 June 2020¹.

Major purchases over the period included high quality Asian tech franchises Taiwan Semiconductor and Samsung Electronics which had become more attractively valued during the period due to market weakness caused by the coronavirus pandemic. We also bought Hoya, the second largest global lens company after EssilorLuxottica. The company manufactures lenses for eyeglasses, contact lenses and medical devices, as well as key components for semiconductor devices and other electronic equipment.

We sold Remgro because we believe the company will struggle in the difficult operating environment of South Africa and Kimberly-Clark de Mexico due to increasing concerns about the quality of the franchise. We also sold President Chain Store following an unsuccessful engagement with the company about its exposure to tobacco sales. The economic risks to the company are, in our view, manageable (less than 10% of gross profit is derived from tobacco), but we were disappointed with management's unwillingness to take proactive steps to de-risk the business and consequently sold our position.

We remain cautiously positioned on the basis that compelling investment opportunities are hard to come by. Our focus remains on finding well-run, cash-generative companies which are reasonably valued and meet our sustainability criteria

#Benchmarks are being included for illustrative purposes and there is no guarantee that a fund will outperform a benchmark. Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

We aim to invest in quality companies trading at reasonable valuations which should contribute to and benefit from the sustainable development of the Asia Pacific region over the long-term.

The Fund has provided a positive return over 3, 5 and 10 years to 30 June 2020. It provided a negative return over the six months to 30 June 2020¹.

Major purchases over the period included Techtronic Industries which has been impressively stewarded by the Pudwill family since 1985 and is developing into a world-leading brand in power tools. We bought Tokyo Electron, one of the largest providers of equipment critical to the functioning and advancement of the semiconductor industry. We believe the company is well placed as the industry continues to consolidate, with manufacturing complexity rising alongside development costs, raising the barriers to success for new or smaller players. We also bought MediaTek, a fabless chip designer.

We sold E.SUN Financial Holding following strong performance because we believe the outlook is less promising. We sold Cipla and Kalbe Farma on increasing concerns about the quality of their franchises.

We continue to believe that the Asia Pacific region is an attractive prospect for the long-term investor. We would argue it is home to many high quality companies and a significant number of world class stewards. We believe that our disciplined, independent investment approach of owning quality companies in the region should continue to deliver reasonable long-term returns for clients.

First State Investment (Hong Kong) Limited August 2020

The Fund has provided a positive return over 3, 5 and 10 years to 30 June 2020. It provided a negative return over the six months to 30 June 2020¹.

Major purchases over the period included Techtronic Industries which has been impressively stewarded by the Pudwill family since 1985 and is developing into a world-leading brand in power tools. We bought Hualan Biological which is dominant in blood plasma products and the largest manufacturer of influenza vaccines in China. The company's leadership in these intellectual property-intensive industries is the result of continued investment in quality control and a relentless focus on innovation. We also bought MediaTek, a fabless chip designer.

We sold E.SUN Financial Holding following strong performance because we believe the outlook is less promising and Kalbe Farma on increasing concerns about the quality of its franchise. We also sold Bank of the Philippine Islands because the business environment in the Philippines has become unpredictable due to the increased political risk under the regime of President Duterte.

We continue to believe that the Asia Pacific region is an attractive prospect for the long-term investor. We would argue it is home to many high quality companies and a significant number of world class stewards. We believe that our disciplined, independent investment approach of owning quality companies in the region should continue to deliver reasonable long-term returns for clients.

Past performance is no indication of current or future performance and the performance data does not take account of commissions and costs incurred in the issue and redemption of units.

The China A-share market increased over the period. On a sector level, Healthcare and Information Technology gained the most, while Financials and Materials were among the weaker performers.

Key contributors to performance included Sun Art Retail Group*, the biggest hypermarket chain in China. Sun Art has made good progress in restructuring its offline business in response to a structural decline in the hypermarket format; and its online sales have been growing strongly. Tsingtao Brewery also added to performance, as the management presented a more coherent strategy to boost sales growth. On the negative side, China Telecom* has suffered from intense industry competition since 2018. More recently, concerns about slowing revenue and increased capex for the forthcoming 5G rollout put pressure on the share price. Luthai Textile declined due to reduced orders, as the coronavirus affected end demand.

*No longer held in the portfolio.

The portfolio was reconstructed over the second quarter, following a change in the lead manager from Quanqiang Xian to Winston Ke.

Some of the key changes include new positions in companies that are supported by major growth drivers in the domestic market. Examples include Guangzhou Kingmed Diagnostics, a leading independent clinical laboratory with a strong culture and capable management, as well as Yifeng Pharma and DaShenLin, which are both leading organised pharmacy businesses that should gain share in a fragmented market. Another addition was Zhejiang Weixing New Building Materials, a leading household drain pipe manufacturer used in residential buildings, city water and gas supplies. The company has delivered a strong track record of growth, driven by the growing refurbishment market. Following on from this theme, the Fund added to its positions in Shanghai M&G Stationery and China Mengniu Dairy.

Companies with substantial exposure to overseas markets have been reduced, as there are still significant uncertainties around the global economy. As a result, the Fund reduced Shandong Himile, Luthai Textile and Fuyao Glass. In addition, Yunnan Baiyao and Tsingtao Brewery were trimmed as valuations became more expensive.

As China was the first country to confront COVID-19 (and has made good progress in containing the outbreak), we believe that China's economic growth should recover gradually from the recent weakness. However, at the global level there is little visibility on what will be required for COVID-19 to be contained or how long it might take. As a result, most companies' earnings are likely to come under pressure.

Amid ongoing liquidity concerns in global markets, we continue to focus on financial safety, proven management execution and the long-term sustainability of portfolio companies. All of our non-financial holding companies have strong balance sheets. Many have also continued to deliver steady operating cash flows based on recent earnings announcements. Short-term market turbulence has provided us with good opportunities to add to better-quality names in the portfolio.

Notes forming part of the financial statements for the period ended 30 June 2020

1. Organisation

First State Global Umbrella Fund plc (the "Company") was incorporated on 18 June 1998 and registered as an open-ended umbrella investment company with variable capital in Ireland under the Companies Act, 2014. The authorised share capital of the Company is five hundred billion shares of no par value initially designated as unclassified shares.

2. Principal accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), and interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee of the IASB. Specifically, these financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS (International Accounting Standard) 34: Interim Financial Reporting.

The comparative figures included for the Statement of Financial Position ("SFP") relate to the previous year ended 31 December 2019, while the comparative figures included for the Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders and Statement of Cashflows relate to the six month period ended 30 June 2019.

The accounting policies used in the preparation of these financial statements are consistent with those used in the Company's most recent annual financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2019.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. If in the future such estimates and assumptions, which are based on management's best judgement at the date of the financial statements deviate from the actual outcome, the original estimates and assumptions will be modified as appropriate in the financial year which the circumstances change.

The financial statements have also been prepared in accordance with the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2015 (the "Central Bank UCITS Regulations") and the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC") Code on Unit Trust and Mutual Funds (the "Code").

3. Taxation

Under current law and practice the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a "chargeable event". A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders, any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of shares and any deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of the holding of shares for an eight year period or more. No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

(a) a shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with the provisions of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, are held by the Company or the Company has been authorised by the Irish Revenue to make gross payments in the absence of appropriate declarations and such authorisation has not been withdrawn; and

(b) certain exempted Irish tax resident shareholders who have provided the Company with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Company may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its shareholders.

Effective 1 April 2018, India introduced a new capital tax regime for long term gains (gains of securities held for greater than 12 months). Previously, long term gains were exempt from tax in India and accordingly the Company did not accrue for Indian capital gains tax. The introduction of the regime required the Company to assess an appropriate accrual methodology for the new tax in order to arrive at a reliable estimate of tax payable. The Company treats all assets as long term and calculates the tax that would arise on this basis. On 3 August 2018, a tax accrual was put in place across the following funds to reflect changes in the treatment of capital gains in India.

* On 29 November 2019, the FVPC decided to classify Unilever Ghana as Level 3. Unilever Ghana is a fairly illiquid stock, with low volumes of trading, which may result in official market prices not updating. Therefore, last traded price is more appropriate to be used throughout the period. Unilever Ghana last traded on 25 June 2020 and remained at Level 3 as at 30 June 2020.

Closing balance

The FVPC believe that there will be a devaluation in the Nigerian Naira. Therefore, equities and cash are subject to reduction in value. The calculation is based upon the difference between spot and forward rates and this has been applied since 29 June 2020. The Nigerian Naira assets are therefore classified as Level 3 as at 30 June 2020.

In determining an instrument's placement within the fair value hierarchy, the Directors separate the Company's investment portfolio into two categories: investments and derivative instruments. Each of these categories can further be divided between financial assets or financial liabilities.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

Investments

Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets and are therefore classified within Level 1, include active listed equities and bonds, certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, and certain money market securities. The Directors do not adjust the quoted price for such instruments, even in situations where the Company holds a large position and a sale could reasonably impact the quoted price.

Investments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active, but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include certain U.S. government and sovereign obligations, most government agency securities, certain mortgage products, investment-grade corporate bonds, certain bank loans and bridge loans and less liquid listed equities, bonds state, municipal and provincial obligations and investments in other funds. As Level 2 investments include positions that are not traded in active markets and/or are subject to transfer restrictions, valuations may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, which are generally based on available market information.

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently or not at all. Level 3 instruments include certain investments valued using an estimate of fair value. When observable prices are not available for these securities, the Directors use one or more valuation techniques (e.g., the market approach or the income approach) for which sufficient and reliable data is available. Within Level 3, the use of the market approach generally consists of using comparable market transactions, while the use of the income approach generally consists of the net present value of estimated future cash flows, adjusted as appropriate for liquidity, credit, market and/or other risk factors. The Level 3 investments are priced by the relevant competent party and the method is approved by the Directors.

Level 3 valuations are reviewed on a monthly basis by the FVPC. The FVPC considers the appropriateness of the valuation model inputs, as well as the valuation result using various valuation methods and techniques generally recognised as standard within the industry.

On 29 November 2019, the FVPC decided to classify Unilever Ghana as Level 3. Unilever Ghana is a fairly illiquid stock, with low volumes of trading, which may result in official market prices not updating. Therefore, last traded price is more appropriate to be used throughout the period. Unilever Ghana last traded on 25 June 2020 and remained at Level 3 as at 30 June 2020. This security is held in Stewart Investors Global Emerging Markets Sustainability Fund.

The FVPC believe that there will be a devaluation in the Nigerian Naira. Therefore, equities and cash are subject to reduction in value. The calculation is based upon the difference between spot and forward rates and this has been applied to since 29 June 2020. The Nigerian Naira assets are therefore classified as Level 3 as at 30 June 2020. These securities are held in Stewart Investors Global Emerging Markets Sustainability Fund and Stewart Investors Global Emerging Markets Leaders Fund.

Bangladesh equities moved from Level 1 to Level 2 on 16 June 2020 and remained at Level 2 as at 30 June 2020. Since the market reopened, following an extended closure, there has been low trading volumes, due to a floor being in place, preventing prices from falling. Off market trading can take place at a discount. The FVPC is monitoring the on and off market trading on a daily basis. These securities are held in First State Asia Pacific All Cap Fund, First State Indian Subcontinent Fund, Stewart Investors Asia Pacific Sustainability Fund and Stewart Investors Global Emerging Markets Sustainability Fund.

6. Financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

Derivative contracts

Derivative instruments can be exchange-traded or privately negotiated over-the-counter ("OTC"). Exchange-traded derivatives, such as warrants and future contracts, and OTC derivatives, such as forward currency contracts, credit default swaps and interest rate swaps, are typically classified within Level 1 or Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy depending on whether or not they are deemed to be actively traded.

The Company considers the transfers between different levels to occur when there is a change in significant observable and unobservable inputs for a particular investment.

The Company's assets and liabilities (by class) not measured at fair value but for which fair value is disclosed have the following levels: Level 1 - cash and cash equivalents, margin accounts, bank overdrafts, Level 2 - remaining classes of financial assets and liabilities on the Statement of Financial Position. These assets and liabilities are carried at amortised cost; their carrying values are a reasonable approximation of fair value.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are incremental costs, which are separately identifiable and directly attributable to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial asset or financial liability. These include fees and commissions paid to brokers and counterparties and have been classified within the Transaction cost line item of the statement of comprehensive income. Transaction fees paid to the Depositary on trade settlement are expensed as incurred and included in the SCI.

7. Incorporation and share capital

The initial share capital of the Company is 30,000 subscriber shares of EUR 1.25 each and the company may issue up to 500,000,000,000 participating shares of no par value. Subscriber shares are not entitled to any dividends or to participate in the profits of the Company beyond the amount of capital paid up on issue. Subscriber shares in issue at 30 June 2020 have not been included in the financial statements. Subscriber shareholders are entitled to one vote per share held in matters relating to the Company. The subscriber shareholders are First State Nominees (Hong Kong) Ltd and First State Investments (Hong Kong) Ltd.

Holders of participating shares of the Funds are entitled to one vote per participating share. Participating shares of the Funds are also entitled to share in any dividends and profits of those specific Funds, and are redeemable at the option of the shareholder.

An anti-dilution adjustment may be payable by the shareholders from time to time as determined by the Investment Manager in respect of net subscriptions or net redemptions in a Fund. The amount of the antidilution levy is intended to cover dealing costs in order to protect continuing shareholders in that Fund.

Transactions in shares during the financial year were as follows:

8. Derivative contracts

Future contracts

Future contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a designated financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange-traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the future contract values are settled daily. Future contracts have little credit risk because the counterparties are futures exchanges. Future contracts result in exposure to market risk based on changes in market prices relative to contracted amounts. Market risks arise due to the possible movement in foreign currency exchange rates, indices, and securities' values underlying these instruments. In addition, because of the low margin deposits normally required in relation to notional contract sizes, a high degree of leverage may be typical of a futures account.

As a result, a relatively small price movement in an underlying of a futures contract may result in substantial losses to the Company.

Futures trading may also be illiquid. Certain futures exchanges do not permit trading in particular futures contracts at prices that represent a fluctuation in price during a single day's trading beyond certain set limits. If prices fluctuate during a single day's trading beyond those limits, the Company could be prevented from promptly liquidating unfavourable positions and thus could be subject to substantial losses.

Notional amounts are the underlying reference amounts to stock exchange indices, equities and foreign currencies upon which the fair value of the futures traded by the Company are based. While notional amounts do not represent the current fair value and are not necessarily indicative of the future cash flows of the Company's futures, the underlying price changes in relation to the variables specified by the notional amounts affect the fair value of these derivative financial instruments. The fair value of future contracts entered into by the Company as at 30 June 2020 is disclosed in the Schedule of Investments. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI. The counterparty for all futures contracts is JP Morgan Securities LLC.

Interest rate swaps

Swaps are contractual agreements between two parties to exchange streams of payments over time based on specified notional amounts. Interest rate swaps relate to contracts taken out by the Company with major brokers in which the Company either receives or pays a floating rate of interest in return for paying or receiving a fixed rate of interest. The payment flows are usually netted against each other, with the difference being paid by one party to the other. The Company may obtain interest rate swaps for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and to hedge against interest rate risk. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on derivatives are disclosed separately in the SCI.

Warrants

Warrants are recorded as an asset or liability at their fair value on the SFP. Fair value as determined by the Administrator is the quoted market price as provided by electronic feed from one or more reputable price vendors. The change in fair value, if any, is recorded as an unrealised gain or loss in the SCI. Realised gains or losses on warrants are shown in the SCI. On the expiry of a warrant the amount previously recognised in the SFP is recognised in the SCI as a realised gain or loss.

12. Significant events during the financial period

On 22 January 2020, Adrian Hilderly appointed as Director of First State Investments Fund Management S.à.r.1 and First State European Diversified Infrastructure S.à.r.1.

On 10 February 2020, Chris Turpin resigned as a Director of the Company and First State Funds plc.

On 10 February 2020, each of Clare Wood and Terrence Yodaiken was appointed as a Director of the Company and First State Funds plc.

Stewart Investors Worldwide Equity Fund terminated on 7 April 2020.

The Board continues to consider the general impact of COVID-19 on the Company and has ongoing engagement with its delegates. The delegates have invoked their Business Continuity Plans (BCPs) which are operating effectively allowing the Company to continue to service its client base.

First State Investments (Hong Kong) Limited is part of First Sentier Investors, a member of the global financial group MUFG. First Sentier Investors includes a number of entities in different jurisdictions, operating in Australia as First Sentier Investors and as First State Investments elsewhere.

Since the end of the financial period the First Sentier Investors group (the "FSI Group") has had to respond to the outbreak of the COVID-19 virus, which has affected many countries around the globe, including countries in which the FSI Group operates and countries in which the FSI Group invests on behalf of our clients. The FSI Group are closely monitoring the developments and the implications of the spread of the COVID-19 virus, the advice from health and government authorities and the World HealthOrganisation, as well as taking advice from our external advisers on international security (International SOS).

The FSI Group is aware that the spread of the COVID-19 virus and the actions taken by Governments, businesses and communities around the globe in response, may have a significant impact on both supply and demand for products and services. We are also aware that the spread of the virus has already begun to impact the investment portfolios we manage on behalf of our clients.

A COVID-19 planning group within the FSI Group is regularly monitoring developments. The COVID-19 planning group is tasked with monitoring and advising the business on the developments in the spread of the COVID-19 virus and the implications for staff, clients and how it operates its business during this time. The COVID-19 planning group will make adjustments to how the business operates during this time with the aim of continuing to provide the best possible services to our clients.

Given the current degree of market volatility in both directions it is not, in the view of the FSI Group, appropriate or practical to quantify the impact to portfolios. We continue to closely monitor market conditions to ensure that we can appropriately manage and price our client portfolios, taking into account any changes in liquidity or other market volatility and/or restrictions. We have in place a set of liquidity management systems and procedures that ensure that the portfolios liquidity profiles are consistent with their investment strategies and that there is appropriate escalation of change in the liquidity profile of funds. In addition, we have established further fund risk monitoring through the use of a daily dashboard that monitors portfolio liquidity, flows, pricing impacts and client concentration enabling swift action. First State Global Umbrella Fund plc continues to levy anti-dilution adjustments and considers the appropriate use of fair value prices on a daily basis per the Prospectus and Articles of Association.

Appendix – Unaudited

Cybersecurity Risk

Cybersecurity breaches may occur allowing an unauthorized party to gain access to assets of the Funds, Shareholder data, or proprietary information, or may cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the Distributor, the Administrator or the Depositary to suffer data corruption or lose operational functionality.

The Funds may be affected by intentional cybersecurity breaches which include unauthorized access to systems, networks, or devices (such as through "hacking" activity); infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code; and attacks that shut down, disable, slow, or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes, or website access or functionality. In addition, unintentional incidents can occur, such as the inadvertent release of confidential information (possibly resulting in the violation of applicable privacy laws). A cybersecurity breach could result in the loss or theft of Shareholder data or funds, the inability to access electronic systems, loss or theft of proprietary information or corporate data, physical damage to a computer or network system, or costs associated with system repairs. Such incidents could cause the Company, the Investment Manager, the Distributor, the Administrator, the Depositary, or other service providers to incur regulatory penalties, reputational damage, additional compliance costs, or financial loss. Consequently, Shareholders may lose some or all of their invested capital. In addition, such incidents could affect issuers in which a Fund invests, and thereby cause a Fund's investments to lose value, as a result of which investors, including the relevant Fund and its Shareholders, could potentially lose all or a portion of their investment with that issuer.

The Securities Financing Transaction Regulation Disclosure

A Securities Financing Transaction ("SFT") is defined as per Article 3(11) of the Securities Financing Transaction Regulation ("SFTR") as:

- a repurchase transaction;
- securities or commodities lending and securities or commodities borrowing;
- a buy-sell back transaction or sell-buy back transaction; or
- a margin lending transaction.

As at 30 June 2020, the Company did not hold any type of SFT.
